Meu Romance / Epilogue

Music:N.Matsuoka

Lyrics:Yasuko Agawa/George Cockle

We all look up for that star
That once shone for us
When our hearts intones
Don't go looking for love
We all look up for that star
That once shone for us
When our hearts intones
Don't go looking for love
Don't go looking for love

We go through life
Looking for love
Reaching and clutching at straws
A braver soul would take to the stage
To await that tender applause
Once again

We go through life
Looking for love
No mind to what it may cost
A thousand petals cast in the wind
Not knowing what we may have lost
Once again

And yes there will come a day
That star reappears
When we least expect
Love will stand at our door
And be there evermore
And be one we want it to be
And we'll hear once again
A forgotten melody

We all look up for that star
That once shone for us
When our hearts intones
Don't go looking for love
We all look up for that star
That once shone for us
When our hearts intones
Don't go looking for love
Don't go looking for love

We go through life
Looking for love
Sails to the wind in a storm
A battered vessel sailing the seas
With hopelessness we do perform
Once again

We go through life

Looking for love
Guarding the heart that still yearns
A waiting game with no end in sight
A lifetime till that love returns
Once again

And yes there will come a day
And be there evermore

And yes there will come a day
And be there evermore

One day it will come to stay
The rest of our years
Treat it with respect
As it stands at our door
And is there evermore
And be the one we want it to be

Don't speculate
Don't instigate
Like the seasons
True love will come around
Love
Love is never late
That's just one of love's traits
Love takes time
Leave it to love

Don't speculate
Don't instigate
Like the seasons
Love
